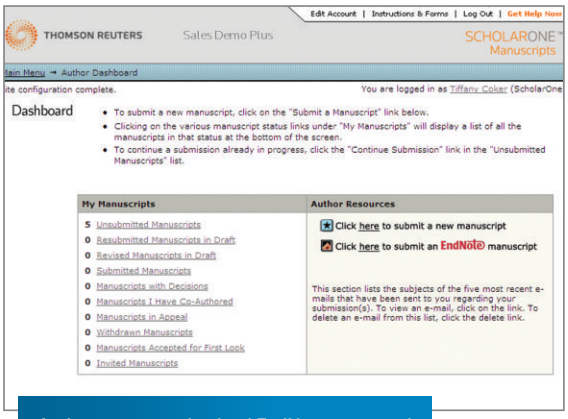
SCHOLARONE MANUSCRIPTS™ OPTIMA

SIMPLIFY THE MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION MANAGEMENT PROCESS

IMAGINE A SET OF TOOLS THAT BRING TOGETHER MANUSCRIPT CREATION, EDITORIAL REVIEW, AND REFERENCE CHECKING INTO ONE SEAMLESS PROCESS. DISCOVER SCHOLARONE MANUSCRIPTS FOR YOURSELF!

ScholarOne Manuscripts™ users have a full set of valuable information resources and authoring tools for a complete workflow solution.

ScholarOne Manuscripts Optima integrates elements of ScholarOne Manuscripts™ with Web of Science℠ and EndNote® from Thomson Reuters, making it possible for authors to create their manuscript in EndNote and seamlessly submit it for review using ScholarOne Manuscripts. With these tools, authors, editors and reviewers can enhance each stage of the manuscript review process, using the expertise of Thomson Reuters and the full resources of the publishing community.



Authors access and upload EndNote generated manuscripts directly from web-based ScholarOne Manuscripts.

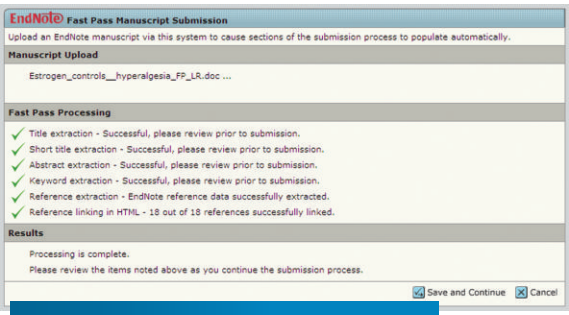
ScholarOne Manuscripts Optima will also give reviewers and editors using ScholarOne Manuscripts direct one-click access from the manuscripts to citations, related records, and links in Web of Science, making the review process rich and more efficient. ScholarOne Manuscripts interacts in real time with the Web of Science, so editors can easily find reviewers and check references for completeness, and reviewers can place an author's new work in its entire research context with a single click.

BENEFITS TO AUTHORS

- Automated population of manuscript submission fields from their EndNote Fast Pass submission.
- Authors' workload is reduced and submission/reference accuracy is improved via use of Fast Pass submission into ScholarOne Manuscripts.

BENEFITS TO EDITORS & REVIEWERS

- Editors can perform an integrated search of Web of Science for reviewers and invited authors, using keywords and related records.
- Reviewers have click-through citation linking and related records in manuscripts they are reviewing.
- Editors and Reviewers have enhanced access to Web of Science even when away from their full institutional memberships.



Fast Pass manuscript submission automatically extracts key manuscript information for author validation, improving accuracy and reducing author workload. EndNote XML templates build linked references for more efficient online peer review.
